THIS WEEK

THIS WEEK our cover design is the seal of West Springfield, one of the co-sponsors of the Massachusetts WPA Music Project.

The seal shows three buildings. At the top center is the First Church or Meeting House erected in 1702 on the town common; at the lower left is the first schoolhouse erected in 1740, also on the town common; at the lower right is the first town hall erected in 1820.

The information regarding the seal was furnished by Henry R. Schmuck, Town Clerk and Treasurer.

West Springfield, although not incorporated a town until February 23, 1774, really separated from Springfield in 1696 when it became the Second Parish.

Holyoke originally known as 'Ireland Parish' and Agawam were parts of West Springfield until set off in 1850 and 1855, respectively.

Since 1636 when William Pynchon and his followers made their original settlement in this territory, the fertile land of the Connecticut Valley has been noted for its productivity.

Several manufacturing plants are located in West Springfield, and in addition, it is a popular residential community, many Springfield business men making their homes there.

Next week's cover design will be the seal of the Town of Stoneham, another of the co-sponsors of the Massachusetts WPA Music Project.

THIS WEEK

THIS WEEK our cover design is the seal of the Town of Stoneham, one of the co-sponsors of the Massachusetts WPA Music Project.

The copy of the seal was furnished by Charles A. Owen, Town Clerk and Accountant.

The shoe industry is featured on the seal. At the top is a goat, representing the kind of leather principally used years ago to make women's shoes. This was an imported goatskin called Cordovan after the City of Cordova in Spain, the leading producer of this material. The name "cordwainer" for a worker on shoes is also derived from the same source.

At the bottom of the seal is a boat, and above it a currier's shave or paring knife, an instrument used in preparing leather.

Stoneham was originally part of Charlestown, separating and becoming incorporated in 1725.

For many years it was a thriving shoe center, at one time having 21 establishments devoted to the manufacture of boots and shoes. Today while a variety of manufacturing is carried on to a lesser degree it is principally a suburb of Boston.

The Composers' WPA Forum will hold a meeting at Huntington Chambers Hall, 30 Huntington Avenue, Boston, Monday evening, January 13 at 8:15. The program will be devoted to unfamiliar music of the 18th Century. The Massachusetts WPA String Symphony, Attilio Poto conducting, assisted by the WPA Male Chorus and the Women's WPA Chorus will present the program.

Next week's cover design will be the seal of the Town of Wakefield, another of the co-sponsors of the Massachusetts WPA Music Project.

THIS WEEK

THIS WEEK our cover design is the seal of the Town of Wakefield, one of the co-sponsors of the Massachusetts WPA Music Project.

The information regarding the seal was obtained from Charles F. Young, Town Clerk and the Wakefield Item of October 22, 1940.

Kingman S. Nichols of Wakefield submitted the design in a contest sponsored by the town in the latter part of the 1870's. He received a $5 award for being the successful designer.

The design is intended to represent the industries of the town. The shoes for shoe manufacturing; the figures on the chevron, rattan fibre carpeting, a new product at that time; the tool below the chevron represents the Boston and Maine foundry.

The first date, 1644, is the founding of the Town of Reading, of which Wakefield was a part; 1812, is the date South Reading was incorporated; 1868 is the date the name of the town was changed to Wakefield in honor of Cyrus Wakefield donor of the town Hall.

The original drawings were recently presented to the Wakefield Historical Society by Franklin K. Nichols, son of the designer.

Next week's cover design will be the seal of the Town of Waltham, another of the co-sponsors of the Massachusetts WPA Music Project.

THIS WEEK

THIS WEEK our cover design is the seal of the City of Waltham, one of the co-sponsors of the Massachusetts WPA Music Project.

The seal features the watch factories that have spread Waltham's fame throughout the world, the first factories wherein watches were entirely made by machinery.

Waltham was originally the West Precinct of Watertown, becoming a separate town in 1738 and incorporated as a city in 1884.

The name Waltham was adopted after an English town of the same name.

The watch industry was started by Aaron L. Dennison who moved from Roxbury in 1854 to found the American Waltham Watch Company.

Another "first" claimed by Waltham is the first factory in America to complete the entire process of turning raw cotton into cloth under one roof. This was the Boston Manufacturing Company established in 1813.

Among other landmarks in Waltham is the historically and architecturally famous Gore mansion, formerly the residence of Christopher Gore, Governor of Massachusetts, Commissioner to England and first United States Attorney for Massachusetts.

The Massachusetts WPA Symphony Orchestra, second largest symphony orchestra in New England, Attilio Poto conducting, will present a concert at the Michelangelo School, Charter Street, Boston, Wednesday evening, January 29 at 8 o'clock. Joan Ruth, lyric soprano, will appear as soloist with the orchestra. There is no admission charge.

Next week's cover design will be the seal of the City of Attleboro, another of the co-sponsors of the Massachusetts WPA Music Project.

William Haddon, state supervisor of the Massachusetts WPA Music Project will address the Royal Arcanum in Royal Arcanum Hall, 302 Walnut St., Newtonville, on Monday, January 27, at 8:30 P.M.

THIS

WEEK

THIS WEEK our cover design is the seal of the City of Attleboro, one of the co-sponsors of the Massachusetts WPA Music Project.

The seal pays tribute to Attleboro as an industrial community, showing a factory, a locomotive, a chain and a plow. The chain undoubtedly symbolizes the manufacture of jewelry, for which Attleboro is famous world wide.

Attleboro was part of Rehoboth until October 18, 1694. The name of the new town was spelled "Attleborough" after its name-sake in England from whence a number of early settlers had come.

The manufacture of jewelry which quickly became the town's principal industry was begun in 1780.

Attleboro is one of the youngest cities in Massachusetts, becoming incorporated in 1914.

Through the kindness of Mr. William Marshall, City Treasurer, who supplied the data concerning the seal, a copy of a proposed new seal designed by Mr. George Nerney also has been furnished.

This seal, historical in nature, is derived from the coat-of-arms of the "mother" town in England.

The tongueless lion symbolizes a legend concerned with the Albin family, one of whose members overcame the animal in combat, tore out the tongue and presented it to the Queen of France. For hundreds of years this feat has been commemorated on the seal of Attleborough, England.

The three Greek letters at the top, resemble the "mark" made by the Indian chief Wamsutta, whose Christian name was Alexander, when deeding the land to the settlers.

Next's week cover design will be the seal of the Town of Plymouth, another of the co-sponsors of the Massachusetts WPA Music Project.

THIS WEEK

THIS WEEK our cover design is the seal of the Town of Plymouth, one of the co-sponsors of the Massachusetts WPA Music Project.

Regarding the seal, the following has been received from Herbert K. Bartlett, Town Clerk and Treasurer: In Volume I, of the Plymouth Colony Records.....I find, "The title pages of the volumes of Plymouth Records are embellished with a correct engraving of the colony seal, executed after an ancient copy of the title page of the oldest extant printed edition of the colony laws. The original seal, which disappeared during the administration of Andros is supposed to have had its origin in the advice of Mr. Robert Cushman, the early agent of the colonists, as given in the following words under date of the eighteenth of December, 1824, in a letter sent from England to Governor Bradford: "Make your corporation as formal as you can under the name of the Society in Plimouth in New England."

The above was printed in the records of 1633, and the seal is identical except that where ours now reads, "Town of Plymouth, Massachusetts," the old Colony seal had the words, "Plimouth Nov-Anglia Sigillum Societatis."

The WPA Male Chorus, John Daniels conducting, will present the musical program at the ceremonies in commemoration of the sinking of the battleship Maine sponsored by the United Spanish War Veterans at Faneuil Hall, Boston, Saturday evening, February 15, at eight o'clock.

The Beacon WPA Orchestra, William Daley conducting, will assist the Citizens Public Celebrations Association of Boston, in a joint Washington Lincoln Birthdays observance at Williams Municipal Building, Sunday afternoon, February 16, at 2:45 P. M.

Next week's cover design will be the seal of the Town of South Hadley, another of the co-sponsors of the Massachusetts WPA Music Project.

William Haddon, state supervisor of the Massachusetts WPA Music Project will address the Men's Club at Methodist Episcopal Church, Winthrop St., Medford Hillside, at 8:00 p.m. on Monday, February 10. On February 15, at 7:30 p.m., Mr. Haddon will address the members of the Old Colony South Pomona Grange at the Assonet Grange Hall.

THIS WEEK

THIS WEEK our cover design is the seal of the Town of South Hadley, one of the co-sponsors of the Massachusetts WPA Music Project.

Originally a part of Hadley, the town became a District under the name of South Precinct of Hadley on April 12, 1753 and attained the status of Town in 1775.

South Hadley has many claims to fame one of the principal being the now long abandoned canal around the Great Falls on the Connecticut River. The canal was first projected on February 23, 1792, when the "Proprietors of the Locks and Canals on the Connecticut River" were incorporated. Dutch capital supplied at least half the funds for the work.

This canal was truly a remarkable feat of engineering. The river has a 50 foot fall at this point, and an inclined plane and carriage were used to move boats from the upper to the lower level.

Many legends have grown up concerning this canal and the rivermen who brought the boats through the falls and the canal. One Rufe Robinson appears to have been the Paul Bunyan of that section. On one memorable occasion he took a steamboat, the "Adam Duncan", safely through Hadley Falls.

The first friction matches 'Made in America' were manufactured here by Stephen Merchant.

Josiah Bardwell and his son-in-law, introduced the use of cloth bags for the sale of salt in small quantities to housewives, a novelty in an era when most goods of this nature were sold directly from the barrel.

Many leading citizens of colonial times received their early education here at the famed Colonel Woodbridge School. Even New York and New Haven families sent their sons to this institution.

Another famous school in South Hadley's history was a school for young ladies headed by Miss Abby Wright. It was not unusual for classes in this exclusive school to begin at six o'clock in the morning.

The historical data about the town was supplied by Miss Komah G. Atwater.

Next week's cover design will be the seal of the Town of Mattapoisett, another of the co-sponsors of the Massachusetts WPA Music Project.

THIS WEEK

THIS WEEK our cover design is the seal of the Town of Mattapoisett, one of the co-sponsors of the Massachusetts WPA Music Project.

The seal shows an Indian representing original inhabitants and a whaling ship on the stocks, a memento of the town's early industry. At one time Mattapoisett was second only to New Bedford as a whaling center.

The last two ships built here were the "Gay Head" and "Wanderer". The mizzenmast of the "Wanderer" is now a flagpole in the town park.

The Town was part of Rochester until its incorporation in 1857.

Today, Mattapoisett is a favorite resort town, living up to the meaning of its Indian name, 'Place of Rest'.

The information regarding the seal and the town was obtained from Mr. Abner Harlow, Town Clerk, and lifelong resident of Mattapoisett.

The Massachusetts WPA Symphony Orchestra, Attilio Poto, conducting, will present a concert at the Donald McKay School, Cottage Street, East Boston, Wednesday evening, February 27th. Clara Arno and Melvin Crowell will appear with orchestra as soloists. The concert will be free and open to the public.

Next week's cover design will be the seal of the Town of Lakeville, another of the co-sponsors of the Massachusetts WPA Music Project.

William Haddon, state supervisor of the Massachusetts WPA Music Project will speak at the Norfolk House Center, 14 Eliot Square, Roxbury at 8:00 P.M. on Saturday, March 1.

THIS

WEEK

The seal depicts an Indian standing guard on what is now known as "King Phillip's Lookout", with Assowompsett Lake in the background.

Assowompsett Lake, headwaters of Narragansett Bay, was a favorite hunting and fishing ground of the original inhabitants.

Lakeville was part of Middleboro until 1853. The townspeople first voted to call the new community Nelson's after one of the leading citizens, but that individual declined the honor and Lakeville was chosen.

Why not attend one of the Music Project's evening concerts in your neighborhood? All concerts are free and open to the public. Here in these pages you will find a variety of concerts, vocal and instrumental, to choose from. You are certain to be rewarded with an evening of excellent entertainment.

Next week's cover design will be the seal of the Town of Merrimac, another of the co-sponsors of the Massachusetts WPA Music Project.

William Haddon, state supervisor of the Massachusetts WPA Music Project will address the Lions Club, Braintree on Monday, March 3rd at 6:30 P.M.

THIS

WEEK

THIS WEEK our cover design is the seal of the Town of Merrimac, one of the co-sponsors of the Massachusetts WPA Music Project.

The seal pictures a carriage of the type known as a brougham, commemorating Merrimac's "Golden Era", when its fame as a carriage building center was world renown. At one time more than 30 factories were engaged directly or indirectly in the manufacture of high quality carriages and livery.

With the advent of the automobile, the carriage industry disappeared but the skilled mechanics, woodworkers, blacksmiths, painters, upholsterers, etc., were much in demand by the new industry and many followed it to the West.

Prior to its incorporation, in 1876, the town was known as West Amesbury.

The information on the seal was furnished by C. Howard Phillips, Town Clerk.

The Bristol County WPA Band, John B. Nelson conducting, will escort a party of 265 selectees to the railroad station in Fall River, Monday March 10, at 6:30 a.m. and will perform a similar honor for a group of more than 200 in New Bedford on Wednesday, March 12, at 8:00 p.m.

Next week's cover design will be the seal of the Town of Athol, another of the co-sponsors of the Massachusetts WPA Music Project.

William Haddon, state supervisor of the Massachusetts WPA Music Project, will address the Parent Teacher's Association, North Reading, in the Town Hall, Wednesday evening, March 12, at 8:00 o'clock.

THIS WEEK

Walter E. Farnum, Town Clerk sends the following regarding the seal: "The seal was adopted on April 4, 1898, at a town meeting on that date adjourned from the annual town meeting held March 21, 1898. The report of the committee.....read at that meeting, 'Since our preliminary report at the annual March meeting, your committee has had, through the kindness of Robert T. Swan, Commissioner of Public Records, the privilege of examining a scrap book belonging to him which contains seals of all the towns and cities of Massachusetts that have been adopted to the present time.

'Our investigations lead us to believe that the most appropriate and satisfactory seals are those that carry history with them in the way of names and dates, and that will, by the pictures perpetuate some fact connected with the history of the town. Athol has no prominent mountain, lake, or river and no public buildings of historical importance enough to be incorporated into a seal, we have selected for the picture a portrait of Col. John Murray. Col. Murray was a member of the family of the Duke of Athol (should be "Atholl") and bestowed upon our town the name of his ancestral home among the hills of Scotland. He also issued the warrant for the first town meeting and was the first moderator of an Athol town meeting.

'The design which we recommend to the town for adoption as a Town Seal is as follows: the centre of said seal to contain a portrait, of Col. Murray, with the words "Col. John Murray" beneath the portrait, while between the inner and outer circles of the seal appear the inscriptions, "Pequoiag Settled 1735"; "Athol Inc. 1762". We present to the meeting to-day sketches of the proposed seal and respectfully present this report for its consideration. (Signed) L. B. Caswell, C. F. Richardson, Committee'!"

Next week's cover design will be the seal of the Town of Hudson, another of the co-sponsors of the Massachusetts WPA Music Project.

William Haddon, state supervisor of the Massachusetts WPA Music Project, will address the Men's Club of the First Baptist Church, Medford, on Monday, March 17th at 7:30 p.m. and The Home Literary Club on Friday afternoon, March 21, at 3:00 p.m., at Mrs. Hanscom's, 10 Kenilworth Road, Worcester.

THIS WEEK

THIS WEEK our cover design is the seal of the Town of Hudson, one of the co-sponsors of the Massachusetts WPA Music Project.

The seal pictures the Assabet River, the attraction that first lured colonists to this pleasant region early in the 18th century.

The territory was part of Marlborough and was known first as "Mills" because it was the location of a grist mill. Later, it came to be called "Feltonville" after Silas Felton, a leading citizen.

With the growth of the shoe industry, Feltonville became more and more important and its citizenry found it impracticable to remain a part of Marlborough.

In 1865 a petition to establish a separate township was drawn up and a sum of money raised by popular subscription to defray expenses. A few residents of Bolton and Berlin were also desirous of joining the community and were included in the petition.

On March 19, 1866, Governor Bullock signed the act of incorporation. The territory belonging to Berlin and Bolton was not included, although the Bolton land was admitted in 1868.

The name "Hudson" was chosen in honor of Charles Hudson who donated $500 for a library fund.

The Massachusetts WPA Symphony Orchestra Attilio Poto conducting, will present an operatic concert at the Michelangelo School, Charter Street, Boston, on Wednesday evening, March 26, at 8 o'clock. Miss Clara Arno, soprano, and Melvin Crowell, baritone will appear in solo and duet numbers.

Next week's cover design will be the seal of the Town of Marblehead, another of the co-sponsors of the Massachusetts WPA Music Project.

THIS WEEK

THIS WEEK our cover design is the seal of the Town of Marblehead, one of the co-sponsors of the Massachusetts WPA Music Project.

The information, from the town records, regarding the seal was furnished by William F. Bragdon, Town Clerk.

The seal was adopted at a town meeting March 8, 1909, where the following report was read.

"The Committee on Town Seal have attended to the duty assigned them, and beg leave to report that on commencing their work they were of the opinion that the Seal should in some way represent the early industry or the early history of Marblehead. After long and careful search they unanimously recommend the following:-

An enterprising fisherman in his dory on the banks, in the morning before sunrise, has pushed out from his schooner to find a good berth for his morning catch. Having found what he thought might be one he has thrown out his line, that he may be sure that there are fish there. He has found the fish as alert as himself, for one has caught his bait, and he is pulling him in, all as represented by the design herewith presented.

We recommend that it be adopted as the official seal of the town of Marblehead. (Signed) Nathan P. Sanborn, N. Allen Lindsey, Joel W. Reynolds, Com. on Town Seal.

Voted: That the report of the Committee be accepted and that the design submitted by this Committee be adopted as the Official Seal for the town of Marblehead on and after May 1, 1909."

Next week's cover design will be the seal of the City of Holyoke, another of the co-sponsors of the Massachusetts WPA Music Project.

THIS WEEK

THIS WEEK our cover design is the seal of the City of Holyoke, one of the co-sponsors of the Massachusetts WPA Music Project.

A copy of Chapter 2, Section 1, Revised Ordinances, sent by City Clerk John F. Sheehan, reads, "The following shall be the device of the corporate seal of the city of Holyoke, to wit:- A representation within a circle of a view of the dam and mills in the foreground and a portion of the Holyoke range of mountains in the background. Around the view, the words, Industria et Copia, Civico Regimine Donata 1873. Underneath the view, the words, Holyoke Conditā, A. D. 1850".

The seal was designed by E.A. Ramsay, City Clerk in 1873.

Holyoke was originally part of Springfield, known as "Ireland Parish". At its incorporation in 1850, it took the name of Elizur Holyoke, a leading citizen of Springfield.

The tremendous water power developed by the building of a dam at Hadley falls, made Holyoke an industrial city. The first dam was built in 1848 but collapsed the day it was inaugurated and had to be rebuilt.

Starting out as a cotton mill center, Holyoke later became known world wide as the "Paper City", the largest producer of fine paper in the United States.

Next week's cover design will be the seal of the Town of Hanover, another of the co-sponsors of the Massachusetts WPA Music Project.

THIS WEEK

THIS WEEK our cover design is the seal of the Town of Hanover, one of the co-sponsors of the Massachusetts WPA Music Project.

The seal shows an anchor with the word "Constitution" across the stock, commemorating the manufacture of the anchors for "Old Ironsides", and a plough in honor of David Prouty, one of the early settlers who, if not the inventor of the cast iron plough was one of the pioneers in its manufacture and obtained the first patent for this necessary implement of husbandry.

The information regarding the seal was graciously supplied by Frederick F. Nagel, Chairman of the Board of Selectmen of Hanover.

Hanover was settled about 1649 and incorporated in 1727, taking territory from Scituate and Abington. The name "Hanover" was given in honor of George I, of England who was also Elector of Hanover.

In the early part of the 19th century, Hanover was a shipbuilding center with six yards along the North River busily engaged.

Col. Jesse Reed inventor of a machine for the making of tacks was one of the town's prominent citizens.

Hanover today is a pleasant community, largely residential but still maintaining several varieties of manufacture.

Next week's cover design will be the seal of the Town of Nahant, another of the co-sponsors of the Massachusetts WPA Music Project.

The Massachusetts WPA Symphony Orchestra, Attilio Poto conducting, will present a "Pop" concert at the Francis Parkman School, Walkhill Street, Jamaica Plain, on Thursday evening, April 24, at 8:30 o'clock. This will be the first appearance of this outstanding group at an evening concert in this section of the city. The concert is free and open to the public.

THIS WEEK

THIS WEEK our cover design is the seal of the Town of Nahant, one of the co-sponsors of the Massachusetts WPA Music Project.

The seal picture Thomas Dexter purchasing Nahant from Poquanum, also called, Black Will, for a suit of clothes and a plug of tobacco.

The copy of the seal was received from Leon M. Delano, Town Clerk.

Nahant, which takes its name from an Indian chief, Nahanton, was originally part of Lynn. Although first settled about 1630, some historians claim it to have been "Krossanes" the burial place of Thorwald, the Norseman killed in a fight with Indians in 1004.

It was also one of the places visited by John Smith in his voyages along the New England coast.

So favorable was Nahant as pasture land to the early colonists that numerous disputes arose, culminating in a suit between the town of Lynn and the administrator of Thomas Dexter's estate in 1676 which decided that Nahant belonged to Lynn.

Nahant became incorporated as a separate town on March 29, 1853.

Nahant has always been a residential community and for years has been a favorite summer residence of leading Bostonians.

The Massachusetts WPA Symphony Orchestra, Attilio Poto conducting, will present a "Pop" concert at the Francis Parkman School, Walkhill Street Jamaica Plain, on Thursday evening, April 24, at 8:30 o'clock. The concert is free and open to the public.

Next week's cover design will be the seal of the Town of Rutland, another of the co-sponsors of the Massachusetts WPA Music Project.

William Haddon, state supervisor of the Massachusetts WPA Music Project, will address the Royal Chapter, Order of Eastern Star, at Masonic Temple, High St., Medford, Tuesday evening April 22, at 8:30 o'clock.

THIS WEEK

THIS WEEK our cover design is the seal of the Town of Rutland, one of the co-sponsors of the Massachusetts WPA Music Project.

The seal shows the house where Rufus Putnam lived from 1781-1788. This house is still standing, housing the Rutland Historical Society.

Rufus Putnam was born in Sutton and served with distinction in the French and Indian and Revolutionary Wars. In 1781 he moved to Rutland, but after six years his adventurous spirit tired of farming and he formed the Ohio Company, to open the then unknown "Northwest Territory". In 1788 he set out with a company of Danvers and Rutland people and founded the town of Marietta, Ohio.

The region was deeded by the Indians in 1686. Upon its incorporation in 1713, it was given the name of Rutland after the county of Rutland in England.

During the siege of Boston, General Putnam, whom George Washington called "our chief engineer", supervised the construction of the fortifications in Roxbury, Brookline and on Dorchester Heights. Following the war he became the first surveyor-general of the United States.

Next week's cover design will be the seal of the Town of Somerset, another of the co-sponsors of the Massachusetts WPA Music Project.

William Haddon, state supervisor of the Massachusetts WPA Music project, will address the Women's Club of the First Baptist Church, Oakland St., Medford, on Friday afternoon, May 2, at 2:00 p.m.

THIS WEEK

THIS WEEK our cover design is the seal of the Town of Somerset, one of the co-sponsors of the Massachusetts WPA Music Project.

Somerset was originally known as "Shawomet" and, although visited by white men shortly after the landing at Plymouth it did not become settled until after King Phillip's War in 1667.

Shipbuilding was the town's first industry. Until the coming of steam, Somerset was one of the country's leading shipbuilding centers.

In 1790 the town became incorporated under the name "Somerset". The name was chosen in honor of the wife of Jerathmel Bowers, rich merchant and chairman of the first board of selectmen.

Jerathmel Bowers had married Mary Sherburne of Boston and wanted the new name of the town to be "Sherburne", but there already was a town of that name in the state, so, "Somerset", the street on which Mary Sherburne had lived in Boston was chosen.

Somerset was also a well known pottery center.

In recent years Somerset has become more and more a residential community for Fall River business and professional people.

"National Music Week" will be celebrated from May 4 to 11. The Massachusetts WPA Music Project, as in other years, is co-operating with the various musical organizations throughout the country in observing this week. Three special concerts devoted to Pan American music, the theme of this year's celebration will be staged by the music project. The Boston WPA Orchestra, Henry Kalis conducting, will be heard at the Parkman Bandstand, Boston Common, Wednesday noon, May 7; a string quartet will play at Town Hall, Huntington Avenue, Boston, Thursday evening, May 8; a massed band of 150 musicians will offer a program at the Hatch Memorial Shell, the Esplanade, Boston, Friday evening, May 9.

Next week's cover design will be the seal of the Town of Reading, another of the co-sponsors of the Massachusetts WPA Music Project.

N O T E S

The hundredth anniversary of the birth of Antonin Dvořák is observed by a performance of four movements of the composer's Stabat Mater. This work, rich in melody and color, has steadily grown in favor since Dvořák conducted the first performance of it in London in 1883. The four movements selected for presentation by women's voices seem to involve no loss of musical or emotional values in the arrangements. The thematic material of the opening chorus is used again, and further developed, in the finale.

The choruses from Strauss' La Reine Indigo were so well received at the Harvard-Wheaton Concert that it has seemed desirable to repeat the waltzes written for women's voices. This music is delightful because it is at once tuneful and of inspired workmanship.

The lively scherzo of the Brahms Concerto is omitted to avoid undue lengthening of the program. The three movements performed should bring a clear picture of the power and brilliance of the work. The first movement, opening with its unforgettable horn theme, is noteworthy for the happy manner in which soloist and orchestra combine, the piano blending perfectly with the instrumental colors. In contrast to the robust cheer of the Allegro and Allegretto stands the tender Andante, founded almost entirely on a meditative subject which the 'cello plays as an obbligato. The finale, masterly in construction yet always comprehensible, abounds in simple, joyous dance themes, with often a touch of the flavor found in the Hungarian Dances and the Gypsy Songs.

The opening chorus of Bach's Cantata No. 11 has been arranged for women's voices, but without suppression of any of the vigorous polyphony which gives the movement its force and grandeur.

THIS WEEK

THIS WEEK our cover design is the seal of the Town of Reading, one of the co-sponsors of the Massachusetts WPA Music Project.

The seal pictures Hob's Mill on Hob's Pond where the early settlers of Linn Village, as it was known, brought their grain to be ground.

Reading was settled in 1639 by colonists from Lynn who called the community Linn Village. In 1644 the town was incorporated by the General Court under the name, "Redding."

The original territory included what is now three towns: Reading proper, North Reading, which was incorporated in 1651, and South Reading, which later became Wakefield, incorporated in 1812.

Early Reading was an industrial center, the manufacture of shoes and furniture being the most important products. One of the first organ manufacturers in the country was located here. With the Civil War and consequent loss of markets, Reading became a residential community and has remained principally so to this day.

Massachusetts WPA Music Project units are co-operating with the State Guard by playing for marching and drilling in the various armories throughout the state where the Guard meets weekly.

Among the towns where the various bands and orchestras are playing are Salem, Medford, Lawrence, Somerville, Everett, Worcester, Lowell, Chelsea, Lynn, Taunton, and in Boston at the Commonwealth, Charlestown, Irvington Street, and East Newton Street armories.

Next week's cover design will be the seal of the Town of Westport, another of the co-sponsors of the Massachusetts WPA Music Project.

THIS WEEK

THIS WEEK our cover design is the seal of the Town of Westport, one of the co-sponsors of the Massachusetts WPA Music Project.

The description of the seal as furnished by Edward L. Macomber, Town Clerk, is as follows: "The house in the upper portion represents a house built about 1667, part of which is still standing, the plowman symbolizes agriculture; the vessel in the lower right symbolizes the whaling industry, at one time the town's principal activity.

The origin of the name WESTPORT is unique. At the time of its settlement, it was the westernmost port in the Bay Colony; the easternmost was EASTPORT, now Eastport, Maine.

Westport was originally a part of Dartmouth, being part of the land purchased by Myles Standish and others of Plymouth from the Indians. It became a separate community on July 2, 1787.

Although whaling is long since gone, agriculture is still the principal occupation of Westport citizens with some manufacturing in the Mills section.

Summer is surely near when the band concert season opens. The daily concerts at Parkman Bandstand, Boston Common, the fifth season, incidentally begin on Sunday, May 25.

As in other years, week days, except Sunday, the concerts will be from noon until 2 o'clock. Sunday concerts will be from 6:30 pm. until 8:30 pm. There will be no concerts on Saturday.

Next week's cover design will be the seal of the Town of Acton, another of the co-sponsors of the Massachusetts WPA Music Project.

William Haddon, state supervisor of the Massachusetts WPA Music Project, will address the Men's Club of the Faneuil Congregational Church, Brooks Street, Brighton, on Monday evening, May 19, at 8:00 pm.

This Week

THIS WEEK our cover design is the seal of the Town of Acton, one of the co-sponsors of the Massachusetts WPA Music Project.

The seal pictures the Davis Monument on Acton Common, erected in memory of Captain Isaac Davis, Abner Hosmer and James Hayward who were killed in the fight at Concord, April 19, 1775. The monument, made of granite quarried in Acton, is 75 feet high surmounted by a flagpole 25 feet high. It was dedicated October 29, 1851.

Acton was originally part of Concord and known as Concord Village. It was settled about 1680 and incorporated a town on July 21, 1735.

The first settler of record was Captain Thomas Wheeler who was given a grant of land on condition of maintaining a pasture for the cattle of residents of Concord.

The Acton Memorial Library was a gift 'to his native town' by William Allen Wilde, a Boston publisher, in memory of the men who served in the Civil War.

The band concert season is upon us. Concerts are being given daily at noon on Boston Common; Franklin Park, Boston, will be the scene of two concerts weekly, on Wednesday and Sunday evenings, starting June 1st. Arrangements are being completed for outdoor concerts in the parks, playgrounds and at beaches throughout the state.

Next week's cover design will be the seal of the City of Peabody, another of the co-sponsors of the Massachusetts WPA Music Project.

This Week

THIS WEEK our cover design is the seal of the City of Peabody, one of the co-sponsors of the Massachusetts WPA Music Project.

The seal shows the Old South Meeting House with its bell tower on the side.

Peabody was originally a part of Salem, then part of Danvers and became a separate community, South Danvers, on May 18, 1885. In 1868 the name was changed to Peabody in honor of its most famous son and benefactor George Peabody.

George Peabody was born in the town which now bears his name but achieved fame and fortune in London where he engaged in the banking business.

At his death in 1869 funeral services were held in Westminster Abbey and a British Naval vessel brought his remains back to the United States.

A total of $200,000 was given by this benefactor for the founding and continued operation of the lyceum and library known as Peabody Institute.

In addition to bequests to his native town, George Peabody also gave large sums to Baltimore, London, Harvard, Yale, Peabody Institute in Salem and many other gifts in the interests of education.

Peabody is an industrial community. For many years it has ranked as one of the leading leather and tanning centers of the world.

Next week's cover design will be the seal of the Town of Abington, another of the co-sponsors of the Massachusetts WPA Music Project.

William Haddon, state supervisor of the Massachusetts WPA Music Project, will address the Order of Amaranth, at Masonic Temple, Medford, on Friday, June 6, 1941, at 8:30 p.m.

This Week

THIS WEEK our cover design is the seal of the Town of Abington, one of the co-sponsors of the Massachusetts WPA Music Project.

The seal shows beavers in a stream with the Indian name of the territory above, "Manamooskeagin"--land of many beavers.

Abington was first settled about 1668 by men from Plymouth of which it was a part. In 1712 it became a separate community.

In 1875 South Abington or "Little Comfort" separated from the parent town to become Whitman.

It was in Abington at Colonel Aaron Hobart's foundry that the first cannon in America were made. Colonel Hobart manufactured bells principally but during the Revolutionary War was commissioned to make cannon for the Continental Army.

Another 'first' for Abington was the manufacture of tacks by machinery invented by Jesse Reed in 1815, which revolutionized the industry.

Abington today is both an industrial and residential community producing a variety of materials and being a favorite "home town" for many Brockton and Boston business men.

The copy of the seal was furnished by Town Clerk, John T. Coughlan; the material for this chapter was taken from Benjamin Hobart's History of Abington.

Next week's cover design will be the seal of the Town of Hamilton, another of the co-sponsors of the Massachusetts WPA Music Project.

This Week

THIS WEEK our cover design is the seal of the Town of Hamilton, one of the co-sponsors of the Massachusetts WPA Music Project.

The seal pictures Alexander Hamilton for whom the town was named.

The territory was originally part of Ipswich and was known as the Hamlet. In 1712 it was granted partial separation by vote of Ipswich retaining the name Hamlet, however.

It was not until June 21, 1793 that the separation from Ipswich became complete and the name "Hamilton" was adopted.

The name was chosen at the urging of Hamilton's most famous citizen Dr. Manasseh Cutler, second pastor of the church, and a great admirer of Alexander Hamilton.

Dr. Cutler was one of the most distinguished citizens of the early days of our country. A graduate of Yale he was a member of the American Academy of Arts and Sciences and many other learned bodies.

When the Ohio Company was formed in 1786 to open the Northwest Territory, Dr. Cutler was chosen by the organizers to present their petition to Congress. He obtained a grant of 1,000,000 acres with an additional 5000,000 acres "allowance for bad lands and incidental charges". He was instrumental in the passage of the anti-slavery ordinance of 1787 which forbade slavery in the territory.

Next week's cover design will be the seal of the Town of Auburn, another of the co-sponsors of the Massachusetts WPA Music Project.

William Haddon, state supervisor of the Massachusetts WPA Music Project, will address the Contentment Chapter #184, Order of Eastern Star, Masonic Hall, Dedham, on Friday June 20, at 9:00 p.m.

This Week

THIS WEEK our cover design is the seal of the Town of Auburn, one of the co-sponsors of the Massachusetts WPA Music Project.

The first settlement in this territory was about 1714. On June 3, 1758 the inhabitants petitioned the Great and General Court to set the district aside as the South Parish of Worcester. The petition was denied but the residents persisted in their efforts and again filed petitions in 1770, 1772 and 1773 finally obtaining their request.

In the year 1778 the name was changed to the Town of Ward in honor of Artemas Ward of Revolutionary War fame. Some confusion arose however, because of the similarity between Ward and the nearby Town of Ware and in 1837 the name was again changed, this time to Auburn.

Auburn although having a brief industrial history in its early days, is today a pleasant and popular suburb of Worcester.

The copy of the seal and information regarding the town was furnished by Town Clerk, John E. Riley.

Have you noticed the number of appearances listed for forts, armories, recruiting drives etc? The units of the Massachusetts WPA Music Project are performing yeomen service in assisting the cause of national defense. Nearly 500 such dates were played during the month of May. Many of the musicians find it necessary to be up and on their way at five o'clock in the morning in order to be at the Boston Harbor Defense Forts to play for calisthenics at 7:15 am. The many letters of approbation received by the State Supervisor's office attest to the importance of this work.

Next week's cover design will be the seal of the Town of Winchester, another of the co-sponsors of the Massachusetts WPA Music Project.

This Week

THIS WEEK our cover design is the seal of the Town of Winchester, one of the co-sponsors of the Massachusetts WPA Music Project.

The seal shows the original name and the date of the settlement of the town and the present name and date of incorporation.

The territory was part of Charlestown when Edward Converse built his grist-mill on the Aberjona River in 1638 to become Waterfield's first citizen.

Later it became a part of Woburn and was called "Woburn Gates" because of the Boston and Lowell Railroad crossing, and South Woburn.

In 1850 the Town became incorporated under the name Winchester. This name was chosen because Colonel William P. Winchester of Watertown, Boston provision dealer, donated $3,000 to help the new town get started.

Although today Winchester is principally residential, with few manufacturing, it was once prominent as a shoe making and tanning center.

The first machine for pegging shoes, previously a hand operation, was developed here by Joel Whitney.

One of Winchester's most famous sons was Edwin Ginn, founder of the book publishing house which bears his name and who donated a million dollars for the establishment of the World Peace Foundation.

Next week's cover design will be the seal of the Town of Milford, another of the co-sponsors of the Massachusetts WPA Music Project.

This Week

THIS WEEK our cover design is the seal of the Town of Milford, one of the co-sponsors of the Massachusetts WPA Music Project.

The Town was first settled in 1662 and was originally a part of Mendon. This section of the country was inhabited by the Nipmuck Indians who were prominent allies of King Philip in his war against white settlers.

For several years the residents presented petitions to have the district separated from Mendon, and on April 11, 1780, the town finally became incorporated under the name of Milford.

Early in its history the Town was economically independent. From 1819 to 1900 it was prominent as a shoe making center and at one time had two of the largest factories in the United States. There came a decline in shoe production after 1900.

Another industry in Milford came into being about the middle of the 19th century with the discovery of pink granite. The discoverer, Rev. Patrick Cuddahy opened the first quarry here at that time.

Stone from local quarries was used in the Boston Public Library, the Corcoran Art Gallery, Washington, the Grand Central and Pennsylvania Stations in New York and other prominent buildings in this country.

Next week's cover design will be the seal of the Town of Acushnet, another of the co-sponsors of the Massachusetts WPA Music Project.

This Week

THIS WEEK our cover design is the seal of the Town of Acushnet, one of the co-sponsors of the Massachusetts WPA Music Project.

The seal shows the stone bridge over the Acushnet river near the old saw mill, which originally was the first fulling mill established in this section.

The Town was settled about 1659 and was considered a part of Dartmouth. It was subsequently set off as a part of New Bedford in 1787 and of Fairhaven in 1812.

On February 13, 1860 the Town became incorporated under the name Acushnet and held its first meeting in the village engine house.

During King Philip's war the village was destroyed by the Indians. In 1776 it was the scene of a pitched battle between the Minutemen and the British troops at the present bridge on Main Street.

In early years the Acushnet river supplied power for a considerable number of mills in this section. For many years, however, the Town of Acushnet has been principally an agricultural district.

Next week's cover design will be the seal of the Town of Dedham, another of the co-sponsors of the Massachusetts WPA Music Project.

THIS WEEK

THIS WEEK our cover design is the seal of the Town of Dedham, one of the co-sponsors of the Massachusetts WPA Music Project.

In April 1878, the Town adopted a common seal. It was then voted "that the Town hereby adopts and establishes a common seal with the following device to wit: In the centre of the foreground a shield, upon which is inscribed the representation of an ancient oak; on the right of the background, the representation of a factory building; on the left, the implements of agriculture; above, the sword and scales of justice; and beneath, in a scroll, the motto, Contentment; in the upper semicircle of the border, The town of Dedham, and in the lower semicircle, Plantation Begun 1635, Incorporated 1636."

A document of historical interest is the Town Covenant which was drawn up before the act of incorporation. It announced the purpose of the early settlers was to form "a loving and comfortable society." The founders were not religious or sentimental visionaries but cared for the more solid and respectable things of life.

The Covenant antedated the first code of colony laws by several years. Since these laws derived their force from the consent of the people, they have been regarded as the beginning of the American system of government.

In Dedham is to be found the oldest frame house existing in America--the "Fairbanks House." Like the Town it celebrated its 300th anniversary in 1936.

Still standing is the "Avery Oak," a tree 80 feet in height and 16 feet in circumference. This was "marked," in its prime, to be used in the construction of the American frigate "Constitution," but the Averys refused to sell it.

The first canal built in America is the "Mother Brook," which connects the Charles and Neponset rivers. The narrow channel, long unused now, was dug, according to the tablet "before 1640," to provide water for the mills of the early settlers, and was the basis of the industrial growth of the Town of Dedham.

Next week's cover design will be the seal of the Town of Groveland, another of the co-sponsors of the Massachusetts WPA Music Project.

THIS WEEK

THIS WEEK our cover design is the seal of the Town of Groveland, one of the co-sponsors of the Massachusetts WPA Music Project.

The importance of education, always a dominant thought with the founding fathers of our country, is stressed in this seal which pictures the Town's first school.

Groveland was settled in 1639 and until 1675 was a part of Rowley. In 1675 it was annexed by Bradford and remained a part of this Town until 1850. On March 8, 1850 the Town was incorporated under the name "Groveland".

The name "Groveland" had no historic origin, but is believed to have been suggested by the existence of attractive groves within its limits, one or more of which had been for many years resorted to for amusement and pleasure.

In its early years the Town depended on the power supplied by the Merrimack River for its economical life.

The industries of Groveland, though now well-nigh extinct, have in the past been varied and extensive. In 1670 a grist-mill was built on Johnson's Creek. In rapid succession followed the establishment of a corn-mill, a fulling-mill, a tanyard, and a chaise factory. The manufacture of brass and pewter buckles, bricks, straw bonnets, even ship building engaged the labor of many of the Town's citizens. Most of the industries have been absorbed by the neighboring city of Haverhill.

The Town of Groveland is unique in Massachusetts in having a government by three selectmen but no Town Hall.

Next week's cover design will be the seal of the Town of Sutton, another of the co-sponsors of the Massachusetts WPA Music Project.

THIS WEEK

THIS WEEK our cover design is the seal of the Town of Sutton, one of the co-sponsors of the Massachusetts WPA Music Project.

The Town land was purchased from the Indians in 1704 by a group of Boston residents. Sutton was settled in 1716 and incorporated in 1718.

The birthplace of General Rufus Putnam, Sutton's most famous son, is featured on the Town seal. He was the chief engineer of the American army during the Revolutionary War and constructed the fortifications in Roxbury, Brookline and on Dorchester Heights during the siege of Boston. He was a leading figure in the Ohio Company which opened that territory in 1787 and later became the first surveyor-general of the United States.

After its settlement the Town of Sutton progressed rapidly. Textile factories and a paper mill were established about 1800, but industrial activity declined when the railroads ignored the Town in laying out the route. Several small shuttle factories are the only industries left, and fruit-growing, dairying and market gardening are the profitable enterprises.

On the Oxford road is a granite Milestone, five feet high and eight inches thick, marked "48 ML to Boston 1771-B.W." which was erected by Colonel Bartholomew Woodbury, a local innkeeper. The latter sensed the advertising advantage of a milestone in front of his tavern altho its proper location was several hundred feet south of his inn. The Colonel persuaded the county commissioners to waive the mere matter of accuracy and to authorize the setting of the stone where he desired, by promising to erect at his own expense a milestone that would be "the queen of all milestones." Whether or not travelers on this road ever discovered the discrepancy is a matter of conjecture.

Next week's cover design will be the seal of the Town of East Bridgewater, another of the co-sponsors of the Massachusetts WPA Music Project.

This Week

THIS WEEK our cover design is the seal of the Town of East Bridgewater, one of the co-sponsors of the Massachusetts WPA Music Project.

Originally settled in 1649, this district was set off as the East End of the North Precinct of Bridgewater in 1723, by order of Governor William Dummer. It was incorporated as East Bridgewater in 1823.

The Town was found to be rich in bog iron and its development was greatly influenced by this natural resource. The establishment here of the first triphammer shop in America initiated a period of manufacturing progress that lasted for almost 200 years.

Among the ingenious residents of the community were Samuel Rogers, inventor of a machine for cutting and heading a nail in one operation; and Eleazer Carver whose improvements on the cotton gin led to his decoration by the Government of India.

On Central Street is "Sachem's Rock" where Miles Standish met with the Indian Ousamequin in 1649 and purchased from him "all land running seven miles in each direction from Weir." For this land the Indian received 7 coats, 9 hatchets, 8 hoes, 20 knives, 4 moose skins, and 10 $\frac{1}{2}$ yards of cotton.

Today many of the residents of East Bridgewater work in the neighboring city of Brockton as only three small factories offer local employment.

Next week's cover design will be the seal of the Town of Brookfield, another of the co-sponsors of the Massachusetts WPA Music Project.

THIS WEEK

THIS WEEK our cover design is the seal of the Town of Brookfield, one of the co-sponsors of the Massachusetts WPA Music Project.

The scene thereon is said to depict an attack upon the white settlers during King Philip's War, and recalls the prominent part which the Red Man played in the early history of this country.

The territory surrounding Brookfield was granted by the General Court to residents of Ipswich in 1660, and settled on Indian land called Quaboag. It was incorporated in 1673, and Brookfield was the most important Township in Worcester County until about 1810. It is believed that the Indian Massasoit died in the Quaboag settlement in 1662.

Although there was a large boot and shoe industry in the Town in the 19th century, the two factories remaining produce electric wire and gum paper. The main occupation is dairying and the region is known for its Jersey herds.

In the Merrick Library is the French writing desk of Louis XVI and Marie Antoinette, a gift to William Draper in 1863 from the Marquis Bernard De Marigny.

The famous Brookfield Inn, with its low ceilings, taproom and a sign dated 1771, still has the atmosphere of an ancient hostelry, and opposite the Inn stands the Chapin House, built in 1797. Its doors and windows are among the finest of their period in New England.

Next week's cover design will be the seal of the Town of Cohasset, another of the co-sponsors of the Massachusetts WPA Music Project.

THIS WEEK

THIS WEEK our cover design is the seal of the Town of Cohasset, one of the co-sponsors of the Massachusetts WPA Music Project.

Cohasset, a part of Hingham, was established on April 26, 1770, and on April 30, 1897, bounds between Cohasset, Hingham and Scituate were established.

The Town of Cohasset boasts of a history beginning with the landing of Captain John Smith in 1614. On Border Street is the John Smith Tablet, commemorating the discoverer of Cohasset, and excerpts from Smith's 'Generall Historie' describing his fight with the Indians.

From the roof of the Colonnade behind the Tablet is a view of the Atlantic and the rocky ledges offshore, the scene of many shipwrecks which brought about the erection of Minot's light. The granite tower is 114 feet high, and was built in 1860. The 1-4-3-flash of its 75,000 candlepower beams is a familiar sight on Massachusetts Bay. Cohasset is so called after the Indian name, meaning a long rocky place.

St. Stephen's Episcopal Church crowning the rocks in the center of the Town lifts its massive tower as a noble and dignified landmark. It is notable for its beautiful stained glass windows and carillon of 51 bells.

Cohasset is the gem of the "South Shore," famous for its picturesqueness and beauty, and its fine bathing beaches and yacht harbor bring many summer visitors from all parts.

The Town Hall, home of the South Shore Players, has a fine auditorium and many famous actors and actresses spend the summer playing with the company.

It is proverbial that anyone who has really tested the beauties of Cohasset becomes possessed by a desire to return and live there.

Next week's cover design will be the seal of the Town of Mendon, another of the co-sponsors of the Massachusetts WPA Music Project.

THIS WEEK

THIS WEEK our cover design is the seal of the Town of Mendon, one of the co-sponsors of the Massachusetts WPA Music Project.

Mendon was settled in 1660, and in 1662, some settlers from Braintree secured a deed from the Nipmuck Indians, and called it Netmocke Plantation. It was incorporated Mendon in 1667, and derived its name from an ancient English Town, Mendham. Mendon is aptly called the "Mother of Towns," for six Towns in the vicinity. Blackstone, Milford, Upton, Rellingham, Northbridge and Uxbridge were all once part of the parent Town.

The first four years of the Town's existence was in Middlesex County, then, in 1671, she was in Suffolk County, and on February 18, 1730, was assigned to Worcester County.

Mendon, next to Lancaster, is the oldest Town in Worcester County. The Town of Worcester was incorporated sixteen years later than Mendon, and is sixty three years older than the County itself. The Town has remained essentially agricultural.

Mendon located in the midst of the County of the Nipmuck Indians, was attacked at the beginning of King Philip's War. Before Christmas, 1675 the Town was completely abandoned, and during the winter the enemy burned all the buildings.

The small one story brick building of the Mendon Historical Society served as a bank from 1820 to 1826. It now has a collection of photographs, pictures, old newspapers, and Indian relics.

Next week's cover design will be the seal of the Town of Saugus, another of the co-sponsors of the Massachusetts WPA Music Project.

THIS WEEK

The Town of Saugus was settled in 1630, and incorporated in 1815, retaining the Indian name by which this section had been known since the earliest settlement. On Feb. 22, 1841, a part of Chelsea was annexed, and Saugus not only comprised its present territory, but also what now forms the City of Lynn, and Towns of Wakefield, Swampscott, Lynnfield, Reading and Nahant.

The site of the forge, marked by a tablet, is a relic of years when the plant was in operation as an iron works. John Winthrop Jr. formed a company of capitalists in England in 1641, and sailed to America with a group of skilled iron workers. In 1645, the plant had an output of 8 to 10 tons of iron a week and later it had a surplus for export.

It is claimed that among the articles turned out were the first dies in America for coining money, and the first fire engine, as well as cranes, anchors, kettles and bar and wrought iron for blacksmiths.

With the exception of the iron works Saugus was largely agricultural through the first two centuries of its existence.

In the 19th century several factories opened up and turned out a variety of products; chocolate, snuff, nails, and shoes, but industry declined, and the Town is today purely a suburban community.

Indicated by a marker and a granite milestone is the old Indian Trail. William, Richard and Ralph Sprague, were according to tradition, the first white men to pass through this region in 1629, on their way from Salem, called Naumkeag, to Charlestown, called Mishawan.

Next week's cover design will be the seal of the Town of Easton, another of the co-sponsors of the Massachusetts WPA Music Project.

THIS WEEK

The Town of Easton was settled in 1694, and incorporated Dec.21, 1725. It was formerly part of Taunton and was the ninth Town organized in Bristol County. It is one of seven villages whose population is largely of Swedish, Irish and Portuguese birth.

In the early days there was a trend toward industrialism, Swamp-land allowed the creation of artificial ponds supplying water-power, and peat and bog-iron were extracted. The latter leading to the building of forges and foundries. The manufacture of iron products is still carried on.

The men of Easton bore an honorable part in the French Indian and other wars. Records give account of many deeds of heroism and suffering in which Easton men participated.

The Leonard Home contains numerous Indian relics, among them, a trowel fashioned along modern lines, the sides of it are finely polished as a machine-made implement, and banner stones made in the shape of hearts, each with a hole bored lengthwise for insertion of a stick. These stones were used for marking boundaries and traps. The Indians used the sides of the stones as score boards to keep track of their catches.

Next week's cover design will be the seal of the Town of Chelmsford, another of the co-sponsors of the Massachusetts WPA Music Project.

THIS WEEK

The Town of Chelmsford was settled in 1633, by people from Concord and Woburn on a tract of land bought from the Indians. These Indians were sometimes called Wamesits, from their village or capital near the mouth of the Concord River, and sometimes Pawtuckets, from the Falls of the Merrimack River, where the City of Lowell now stands. The Town was incorporated May 29, 1655. It was named after Chelmsford, in Essex, England, and is the only Town bearing that name in the United States.

Reverend John Elliot of Roxbury, was known as the Apostle to the Indians, because of his efforts to convert them to Christianity. These Indians were not of a warlike disposition. Their chief, Passaconaway, who died in 1662, and his son, who was Chief after him, called Wannalanset (also spelled Wonolanset) continued steadfast in their friendship for the settlers.

Upon the outbreak of King Philip's War, Wannalanset withdrew with his people to the North to prevent being drawn into the quarrel, and although he suffered great provocation at the hands of the English, even in this retreat he would not suffer his men to retaliate.

Chelmsford was represented at the Battle of Dunker Hill, and one of its citizens, Joseph Spaulding is said to have thus described firing the first shot. "I fired the shot ahead of time, and General Putnam rushed up and struck me for violating orders. I suppose I deserved it, but I was anxious to get another shot at Gage's men ever since our affair at Concord. The blow from "Old Put" struck me on the head, made a hole in my hat and left me a scar." The hat with the hole in it was preserved in the Emerson House, Spaulding's home, until that building was destroyed by fire.

The local mills and factories in the early 19th Century produced lumber, corn, powder, and cotton cloth.

Among the famous houses of Chelmsford are the Fiske House, Deacon, Otis Adams House, and the Spaulding House.

Next week's cover design will be the seal of the Town of Marshfield, another of the co-sponsors of the Massachusetts WPA Music Project.

THIS WEEK

Marshfield was settled in 1632, and incorporated in 1642, and was the eighth Town to be incorporated in Plymouth County.

The Town of Marshfield, together with Duxbury, its adjoining Town on the South, shares with Plymouth the interest which is attached to the home of the Pilgrims. Its fertile land and broad marshes early attracted the attention of the first settlers, and were eagerly sought for homesteads and farms.

In the 19th Century after the construction of a marsh-drainage canal, strawberries and cranberries became the most important crops.

Marshfield was the home of many famous people, including John Alden, Daniel Webster, Peregrine White, Governor Edward Winslow and Governor Josiah Winslow.

Edward Winslow who was called the founder and father of Marshfield, was Governor, and one, if not the most prominent man of Plymouth County. He was the most accomplished of all the Pilgrims. He was born Oct. 18, 1595, at Droitwich, England, came to America on the Mayflower, and he was third on the list who signed the compact before the Pilgrims' disembarkation. He married Susanna, widow of William White, and mother of Peregrine White. This was the first marriage solemnized in the Colony.

His step-son, Peregrine White, was the first English child born in New England. He was born on the "Mayflower," Nov. 20, 1620, in the harbor of Provincetown. His son, Josiah Winslow, was the first native born Governor of Massachusetts, and the first native born General.

It is claimed that the first regularly organized Town Meeting in North America with a Moderator chosen to preside, took place in Marshfield in 1643.

The Fairgrounds of the Marshfield Agricultural and Horticultural Society founded in 1867 are still used annually for Fairs.

Next week's cover design will be the seal of the Town of Lynnfield, another of the co-sponsors of the Massachusetts WTA Music Project.

THIS WEEK

Lynnfield was settled in 1638-39. It was originally a part of Lynn, known as "Lynn End" and was established as a district, July 3, 1782, and incorporated as a Town Feb. 28, 1814.

Located on the Newburyport Turnpike, which was finished in 1806, it was expected to bring great prosperity to the Town. Lynnfield is essentially a farming Town. Many people employed in nearby industrial centers make their homes there.

Lynnfield possesses many attractions for the lover of nature in her lonely glens and pleasant heights, in her lakelets and busy streams. She has good highways, and romantic byways, green meadows and sunny plains.

There are several picturesque lakelets or ponds in Lynnfield, and two or three streams that not only add charm to the landscape but are useful in various ways, though not largely employed as manufacturing agents.

Lynnfield Pond, as it is usually called, though sometimes known as "Sauntaug Lake" is the chief of the still waters. Pilling's Pond is largely artificial and of no great depth. Nell's is remarkable for its elevation, being something like a hundred feet above sea level.

Along the Northern border of Lynnfield flows the main branch of Ipswich River, and the West side is partly traversed by the Saugus River. Hawkes' Brook meanders leisurely along, and is now charged with the useful duty of adding to Lynn's public water supply.

Next week's cover design will be the seal of the Town of Wellesley, another of the co-sponsors of the Massachusetts WPA Music Project.

This Week

Wellesley was settled in 1660, and incorporated a Town, April 6, 1881. It was a part of the Town of Needham from 1771 to 1881. Previous to that time, it was included in the limits of Dedham.

A sawmill was set up in 1704, and later, paper mills, hosiery mills, a shoddy mill in 1880, a shoe factory, and a chemical factory developed. At present, the industries of the Town, consists of the making of electrical machinery, hosiery, and shoddy. For the most part, however, Wellesley comprises of farms and residences.

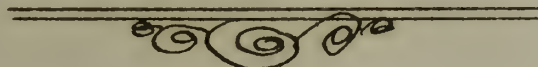

The name Wellesley, is an adaptation of the family name of Samuel Welles, who, in 1763, established a home here, within the Town of Natick.

In 1871, the Town was given its present trend by the foundation of a Female Seminary, later to be called Wellesley College. Henry Fowle Durant was the founder. His purpose in creating the Seminary was not only to offer young women opportunities for education equivalent to those provided for men, but also to 'establish an institution for the greater glory of God.'

The cornerstone of the first building was laid by Mrs. Durant, on Aug. 18, 1871. On Sept. 8, 1875, the school, now officially Wellesley College, opened its doors to three hundred and fourteen students. Two hundred were turned away for lack of room. The main building contained the first laboratories for scientific investigation made available for women in the United States.

Alexander Graham Bell lived here at the time of his invention of the telephone, and Dr. W. T. C. Morton, co-discoverer of the use of ether in surgery, was a member of the community.

Next week's cover design will be the seal of the Town of Hingham, another of the co-sponsors of the Massachusetts WPA Music Project.

John Meers

John Meers was born on the 10th day of January 1841, at the residence of his parents, John and Mary Meers, in the town of New York, State of New York. From London — Federal Music — Musicians' Plight

Last week, this column had something to say about the necessity of supporting our musical institutions in these parlous times. Among other things was cited the example of Europe in maintaining and even increasing interest in serious music in spite of conditions compared to which our own is a paradise on earth.

This week, striking corroboration came to the attention of this column in "Tempo," an excellent little musical news-letter issued by Boosey and Hawkes. In "Letter from London," by Ernest Chapman, "Tempo" tells the story of London's music. A few quotations from the article follow:

10-24-41 Jan. Adv.
 "It is just nine months since my last 'London Letter'—an interval which has been a highly successful winter musical season both in London and the provinces. The success may be attributed to two factors: firstly, because under the stress and burden of war, the public turns more and more to serious music for refreshment, entertainment and spiritual sustenance; secondly because this demand has been met and encouraged by the leading orchestras. . . ."

"Queen's Hall having been destroyed, the Promenade concerts were held this year at the Royal Albert Hall. It was feared that transfer to a different hall, in a non-central part of the city, might affect the size of the audience. It did, in fact, but fortunately not in the manner that the sponsors had anticipated. Instead of the usual two to three thousand who filled Queen's Hall, four to five thousand music-lovers thronged the Albert Hall every night for six weeks; and at some concerts, notably the all-Beethoven ones, the dizzy fine figure of six thousand was reached. . . ."

"Music is playing an increasingly important part in the military as well as the civil sphere in this war. Most of the army bands were suspended when the war first broke on us, but they are now coming back with a rush, and in fact the difficulty is to find enough instruments to meet the demand. The military authorities are becoming increasingly aware of the valuable stimulating effects of music, and it would be possible, were there sufficient space, to give details of many orchestral and other musical combinations which have recently sprung into being with the active co-operation of local military authorities. In at least two towns—Salisbury and York—fully fledged symphony orchestras have been formed by serving musicians, while the R. A. F., which has at present one of the best orchestras in England, makes a regular practice of sending round solo performers and chamber-music combinations—all members of the R. A. F.—to various units. The most recent development of this 'more music' movement has been the appointments, in two of the Army Commands, of full time Directors of Music, whose sole job is to organize and provide serious music for the forces. . . ."

The only comment possible on the above is that musically, we still have a lot to learn from Europe. Here the cry is to cut down our music as a useless luxury; there, they recognize the value of serious musical experience to culture and morale.

One of the bright spots in the musical situation here in Massachusetts has been the splendid way in which the Federal Music Project has always been ready to co-operate wherever and whenever its services have been needed.

10-24-41 Jan. Adv.
 Due to the rapid enlargement of the army, most units found themselves without the services of a band. Now this might seem a trifle to some, but it is well-known that music is a great help in stimulating increased interest among the men in their calisthenics and marching drill. Further, the effect of music on general morale is too well-known to need extended comment.

In Massachusetts, the Federal Music Project has done yeoman service in filling this musical breach. Band units of the project have been sent to many camps and forts to aid in drill, marching and other ways.

State Director William Had-don, of the project, has received letters of commendations time and time again from the commanding officers of the posts where the WPA men have served. One and all, these officers are enthusiastic both about the spirit of the band units and the effect on the soldiers.

This defense work is only one of many ways that the project has served Massachusetts. If the public better understood the scope and value of the work that has been done, it would better appreciate the need for maintaining and extending the whole WPA music program.

THIS WEEK

Hingham was settled in 1633, and it originally embraced the present Town of Cohasset, which was set off, April 26, 1770. It was incorporated Sept. 2, 1635, and derived the name from Hingham, in Norfolk, England, from whence most of the settlers had emigrated. It was originally inhabited by Algonquin Indians, and the territory was conveyed to the English by three Algonquin representatives in 1665.

Mrs. Sarah Derby, whose maiden name was Langley, was a poor fisherman's daughter, known as "Ragged" Sarah Langley; ignorant, and hardly able to read or write, but having acquired considerable property at the death of her first husband, Dr. Ezekiel Hersey, she determined to found a school, where the poor children of the Town might obtain the blessing of an education, which she herself had been denied, and of which she had ever felt the want. On Oct. 21, 1784, she deeded some land and buildings. The school was incorporated Nov. 1784, and called Derby School, after its founder. By Legislative Act, June 19, 1797, Derby School was changed into an Academy, and called Derby Academy, the name it has retained to the present time.

Hingham has many famous houses; the old Garrison House was occupied by nine generations of the Perez Lincoln family, who settled in Hingham in 1633-35; Lincoln-Barker-Thaxter House was owned and occupied by Samuel Lincoln, from 1690-1758. His grandfather, Samuel Lincoln, an ancestor of Abraham Lincoln, acquired this land after coming from Hingham, England, in 1637, and it is possibly the oldest dwelling in Hingham, connected with ancestors of Abraham Lincoln. The old Ordinary House which was built in 1650, now the Home of Hingham Historical Society, houses a collection of old furniture. The Cushing House is also very famous.

The old Ship Church, built in 1681, by ship carpenters, is believed to be the only 17th Century Church now standing in Massachusetts.

Next week's cover design will be the seal of the Town of Amherst, another of the co-sponsors of the Massachusetts WPA Music Project.

THIS WEEK

Amherst was settled in 1703, and incorporated, Feb. 13, 1759. It was purchased from the Nonotuck or Norwottuck Tribe of Indians in 1658, and it was originally a part of Hadley. It was named for Lord Jeffrey Amherst, a British General in the French and Indian War.

Farming was the exclusive occupation for three quarters of a century; later, there was established many manufacturing plants; including the manufacture of rope, fish lines, window cord, garden lines, etc. There was also carriage and wagon shops, marble and granite works, brick yards, and woodworking factories.

Amherst, a pleasant valley plateau within a circle of hills, is a dignified college town, the seat of two institutions of higher learning. In 1814, Amherst was chosen as the site for Amherst Academy, and was formally dedicated in 1815, although it was not chartered until 1816, owing to opposition. It was founded with the simple ideal of educating "promising, but needy youths, who were to enter the ministry." The initial enrollment was forty-seven pupils. It was through a charity fund that Amherst Academy grew into Amherst College. Fifty thousand dollars as a charity fund was quickly raised, and in 1820, the trustees of the Academy began the erection of the first college building. Noah Webster delivered an address at the laying of the cornerstone.

Amherst was the first institution to adopt student-government. It is one of the most noted of the smaller colleges for men in the United States, and its standards of plain living and high thinking are well illustrated by the characters of two of its best known graduates, Henry Ward Beecher, and Calvin Coolidge.

In 1864, a second college was located in Amherst, by vote of the trustees of Massachusetts Agricultural College, which had been incorporated the year before, by the State Legislature, and was at that time "the only college in the United States designed exclusively for the education of farmers." The early success of the college was due in large measure to the active and energetic ability of Colonel Clark, who made the institution known, not merely in this State, but also in far away Japan, whose Agricultural College at Sapporo, was modeled upon this, and organized by President Clark, who received a year's leave of absence to start the college, and which has even looked to Amherst for gifted and energetic teachers. Today, this institution possesses a perfectly equipped dairy farm, known as the Flint Laboratory.

Next week's cover design will be the seal of the Town of Grafton, another of the co-sponsors of the Massachusetts WPA Music Project.

THIS WEEK

Grafton was settled in 1718, and incorporated April 18, 1735. It was originally a portion of the Nipmuck Country, and inhabited by Hassanamsits, an Indian family of the Nipmuck Tribe. It was first called Hassanamisco Plantation. (Place of the ~~Falling~~ Stones) and was established in 1654, as one of John Eliot's Praying Indian towns.

Reverend John Eliot, the celebrated missionary to the Indians, was born in England, in 1604, and came to this country, Nov. 13, 1631. He converted many Indians to the white man's religion.

It was in Grafton, that the second Indian Church was established, and here the Indian, James, the printer, lived, who aided Eliot in his work on the Indian Bible.

In 1728, residents of Marlborough, Concord, Sudbury, and Stow were granted permission by the General Court to purchase this tract from the Red Men. In 1735, when it was incorporated a township, Governor Belcher named it in honor of Charles Fitz Roy, Duke of Grafton.

Grafton underwent a period of industrial development, but today is a residential suburb of Worcester, with many colonial buildings.

Next week's cover design will be the seal of the Town of Amesbury, another of the co-sponsors of the Massachusetts WPA Music Project.

THIS WEEK

Amesbury was settled in 1654, and incorporated in 1668.

The town was an important shipbuilding center before steam supplanted the clipper ships of 1850, but the manufacture of hats is the town's single important industry at the present time.

The landscape is diversified by numerous hills and valleys, which give a great variety of scenery. Near the centre of the town is Kimball's Pond, the Indian name of which was, "Attitash." It is a beautiful sheet of water about one mile in diameter. The Merrimack River on the south, is about half a mile wide. On the east, is the famous Powow, a small stream, which rises in New Hampshire, and wends its way to the Merrimack.

John Greenleaf Whittier, the famous poet, resided in Amesbury for 56 years. Most of his poems were written there, and the desk he used, as well as other interesting relics can be found in the Whittier House.

Shrubs conceal a boulder marking the site of the home of Susanna Martin, better known as "Goody Martin," a famous Amesbury witch, who was tried, convicted, and sentenced to hang at Salem, in 1693. The story is, that on the scaffold, she uttered incantations which caused the rope to move about so that the hangman could not tie the knot; until a crow, flying overhead, cawed down the advice, to try a noose of willow withes. When this was done, the execution was successfully completed.

Amesbury was especially favored by the powers of darkness. Goody Whitcher was another town witch, whose loom kept banging day and night, even after she was dead. In the early days, people strolling late at night through the quiet streets of the town, often met a headless man walking along, and carrying his head under his arm.

In the early years, Barrow Hill was also the scene of witches' routs, and late at night, the light from their fires was plainly seen on the hill-top, as shadowy forms danced and soiled around its summit.

Next week's cover design will be the seal of the Town of Bridgewater, another of the co-sponsors of the Massachusetts WPA Music Project.

THIS WEEK

ridgewater was settled in 1650, and incorporated, June 3, 1656, from a part of Duxbury.

The land now occupied by the Bridgewater was acquired by the barter system from Massasoit, by three Duxbury men, Captain Miles Standish, Samuel Nash, and Constant Southworth. The goods for which the Indian exchanged this extensive parcel of real estate, known among his people as "Saughtusquett," were seven coats, nine hatchets, eight hoes, twenty knives, four moose skins, and ten and one half yards of cotton cloth.

Bridgewater, in the 18th century, became one of the chief centers for iron manufacture. Many Revolutionary cannon were cast here, and during the Civil War, some material for the "Monitor."

Industry has attracted many Italians and Portuguese to the town, and the vineyards and bowling (bocce) alleys of the Italians are conspicuous.

The Washburn House is a two and a half story, gabled, weather beaten, structure, built in 1700, and surrounded by an iron fence. On either side of the wooden walk are bent trees, grown old with the house. A wooden sign identifies this building as the home of Colonel Edson, a Tory, from whom it was confiscated.

The Dean Joseph Alden House (1700) was built by the grandson of John Alden. At the rear of the building are the original well and an iron-ribbed barrel, fed by a wooden trough. Except for the roofing and a few minor interior and exterior repairs, the house is unchanged from Colonial times.

The Bridgewater Teachers' College was established Sept. 9, 1840, and opened with twenty eight pupils, twenty one of whom were women. In 1846, the State provided a new and commodious building which was dedicated, Aug. 19, 1846. The school grew year by year, until today it accommodates five hundred students, mostly women.

Next week's cover design will be the seal of the Town of Georgetown, another of the co-sponsors of the Massachusetts WPA Music Project.

THIS WEEK

Georgetown was settled in 1639, and incorporated April 2, 1838.

Georgetown was an offspring of the mother town of Rowley, and one of the last settlements in Essex County. The story goes, that grants in this district, were held in abeyance, by Ezekiel Rogers, head of the Rowley Company, so that his friend, Oliver Cromwell, might find refuge, if his efforts to dethrone Charles I, should be unsuccessful.

In the early days, the men spent the winter months in making and selling peg shoes, while during the summer, they turned their attention to the raising of farm products. At the present time, the manufacture of shoes is the principal industry, there being three shops in operation.

The Brocklebank House was built in 1670. This attractive gambrel-roof dwelling was once the home of Captain Samuel Brocklebank, who was killed in King Philip's War. The old sign of the White Horse Tavern, 1773, swings in front of it.

One of the highest points in Essex County is Baldpate Hill, where a road through an attractive wood leads to its summit.

Baldpate Inn, a rambling old structure, with its seven outside doors, is the setting of Earl Derr Bigger's Drama, "Seven Keys to Baldpate."

Next week's cover design will be the seal of the Town of Dover, another of the co-sponsors of the Massachusetts WPA Music Project.

THIS WEEK

part of NYA Orchest.
A plea that steps be taken by federal authorities to prevent the threatened disbandment of the NYA symphony orchestra, was made by Councilman John C. Wickes of Dorchester at yesterday's Boston City Council session. Adopting a resolution sponsored by Wickes, the Council formally requested government officials to provide necessary funds to meet the orchestra's deficit "and guarantee the perpetuation of this worth-while project."

THIS WEEK our cover design is the seal of Dover, one of the co-sponsors of the Massachusetts WPA Music Project.

Dover was settled about 1635, and established as a district July 7, 1784 from a part of Dedham. The district was incorporated a town March 31, 1836.

Dover has been, and is largely an agricultural town. It has many homes of historical interest. The Miller Caryl House (1777) was once the parsonage of a beloved pastor of the parish. The Peak House, built (1680) so called because of an extraordinarily high-peaked roof, has small leaded casements with diamond shaped panes, and a small door. It must have been the envy of humbler householders. When Seth Clark, receiving indemnity from the Colonial government for the burning of his first home by King Philip's Indians in 1676, is said to have built this house on its site. Another story says that this was Seth's original house, spared by the Indians in return for a keg of cider.

The Dover Church, built in 1839, contains a Paul Revere bell.

Trout Brook which rises in Great Spring, the north source of the Neponset River, is known to old-timers as Tubwreck Brook, from an episode jovially chronicled by a local historian. One spring when the brook was unusually swollen, Captain James Tisdale attempted to sail down the stream in a half hogshead, to gather flood cranberries. The tub became unmanageable, and capsized. Captain Tisdale's friends made much of this event. A quantity of ship bread, together with some other articles as might be washed ashore from the wreck of a merchant ship, were left at his door; and the neighbors gathered and celebrated his rescue from the wreck. An original poem telling this story was repeated for many years, around Dover fireplaces.

Next week's cover design will be the seal of the Town of Hampden, another of the co-sponsors of the Massachusetts WPA Music Project.

THIS WEEK

THIS WEEK our cover design is the seal of Hampden, one of the co-sponsors of the Massachusetts WPA Music Project.

Hampden was settled about 1741, and incorporated a town in 1878.

Since the days of pioneership, Hampden has been known as an agricultural town. Dairying and market gardening are now the chief occupations. In early days Hampden had woolen mills, cloth and carding mills, paper mills, a tannery, and a famous plow works. Tobacco was grown with fair success, but the demand for light tobacco, has destroyed the market which Hampden formerly had for its dark crop.

A famous daughter of Hampden, is Alice Terhune, wife of Albert Payson Terhune. Her novels 'The Boarder Up at Em's' and 'Eyes of the Village' contain characters said to be local townspeople. Another famous novelist, Thornton Burgess, author of stories for children, owns an estate here.

Like all small communities, Hampden has a general store, where lively discussions are carried on during the winter months when farmers feel the need of warming up around the comfortable stove before beginning the cold drive home.

A good yarn is that of Kibbe's shirt. An alarm being raised on the Sabbath Day that Indians were coming, Kibbe ran into the woods to get his cow. He took his gun with him, although hunting was forbidden on the Lord's Day. Not long after he entered the woods, two shots were heard; he, knowing that he was in danger of punishment for Sabbath-breaking, came running out of the woods, yelling, 'Indians! Indians!' The searchers saw no savages, but at his request, they examined Kibbe's shirt. There were two holes in the shirt, but none in Kibbe. He finally confessed that he had been tempted by Satan to shoot at some handy game, and had then made holes in his own shirt to escape punishment. Old-timers say, that this was the only actual (sic!) Indian alarm in Hampden history.

Next week's cover design will be the seal of the Town of Lunenburg, another of the co-sponsors of the Massachusetts WPA Music Project.

THIS

WEEK

THIS WEEK our cover design is the seal of Lunenburg, one of the co-sponsors of the Massachusetts WFA Music Project.

Lunenburg was settled in 1718, and incorporated a town, in 1728.

This territory was called Turkey Hill. The town was named in honor of George II, one of his titles being the Duke of Lunenburg. Lunenburg is a city in the old Kingdom of Hanover. George II was of the House of Hanover, and derived his title from this Hanoverian place.

The official seal symbolizes the agricultural nature of the town, and was adopted, March 1, 1897. It is still a quiet farming community, although attempts have been made to change the agricultural complexion of the town, and it has many spacious summer residences on the outskirts.

Luther Burbank, the horticulturist, in this town, perfected the potatoe known as the Red Rose.

In the Ritter Memorial Library is a fine collection of Lunenburg Bibles, and a Bible donated to the town by John Hancock, in 1772. The historic room also houses several objects resembling carved ivories. They were made from meat bones, by George Gilchrist, a Lunenburger, when he was in Libby Prison during the Civil War.

The Cushing House was built in 1728. Here in 1820, William Greenough printed the Polyglot Bibles, which include not only the Old and New Testaments, but also the 12 books of Apocrypha, attributed to the Greeks. The old horse who furnished the power for the printing shop is said to have been given a Christian burial in recognition of his distinguished contribution toward spreading the word of God. Luther Cushing, who at one time, resided in this house, was author of the Manual of Parliamentary Practice, (1834) which, little changed, still guides Americans in the conduct of public meetings.

The Houghton Homestead, an example of shrewd Yankee ingenuity, has a 'tax exemption' roof, which slopes to one story in the rear, thus avoiding the tax imposed on two story houses.

Next week's cover design will be the seal for Christmas, instead of the seal of a town.

HARK! THE HERALD ANGELS SING

Hark! the herald angels sing:
Glory to the new born King;
Peace on earth, and mercy mild,
God and sinners reconciled!
Joyful, all ye nations, rise,
Join the triumph of the skies;
With the angelic host proclaim
Christ is born in Bethlem.
Hark! the herald angels sing,
Glory to the new born King. Amen

O COME ALL YE FAITHFUL

O come all ye faithful,
Joyful and triumphant
O come ye, O come ye
To Bethlem;
Come and behold Him,
Born the King of Angels;
O come let us adore Him,
O come let us adore Him,
O come let us adore Him,
Christ the Lord. Amen

IT CAME UPON THE MIDNIGHT CLEAR

It came upon the midnight clear,
That glorious song of old,
From angels bending near to earth,
To touch their harps of gold.
Peace on the earth, good will to men
From heaven's all gracious King,
The world in solemn stillness lay
To hear the angels sing.

O LITTLE TOWN OF BETHLEHEM

O little town of Bethlehem,
How still we see thee lie,
Above thy deep and dreamless sleep
The silent stars go by;
Yet in thy dark streets shineth
The everlasting light,
The hopes and fears of all the years
Are met in thee tonight.

SILENT NIGHT

Silent Night, Holy Night
All is calm, all is bright,
'Round yon Virgin Mother and Child
Holy Infant so tender and mild,
Sleep in heavenly peace,
Sleep in heavenly peace.

Silent Night, Holy Night
Shepherds quake at the sight!
Glories stream from heaven afar,
Heavenly hosts sing Alleluia
Christ the Saviour is born,
Christ the Saviour is born.

GOD REST YOU, MERRY GENTLEMEN

God rest you, merry Gentlemen,
Let nothing you dismay,
Remember Christ our Saviour
Was born on Christmas Day,
To save us all from Satan's pow'r
When we were gone astray.

O, tidings of comfort and Joy
Comfort and Joy,
O, tidings of comfort and Joy.

THIS WEEK

THIS WEEK our cover design is the seal of Pembroke, one of the co-sponsors of the Massachusetts WPA Music Project.

Very little is known of the early days of Pembroke. It is believed to have been settled about 1650, and was incorporated as a town, in 1712. It was originally a part of Duxbury.

One of its earliest settlers was Robert Barker, who acquired a liberal area from the Indians in the Herring Brook district, in exchange for a quart of sack.

Until the early 19th century, ship-building on the North River, was the major industry.

There is an old story which says, "that once there was a stump surrounded by water lillies, in near-by Hobomoc Pond, that rose three feet above the surface, regardless of the rise and fall of the water."

To the Indians, Hobomoc was an evil spirit, and the lillies were his pale faced children, brought over the Great Water in a canoe. When the Indians assaulted the stump, it groaned, the waters became agitated, and the flowers danced. Unable to destroy the spirit, they offered him tribute, throwing choice morsels of food into the pond. The gifts, however, did little good; sic knees came, and eventually the Pale Face triumphed.

Queen Patience, the Indian's seeress, advised them to leave the region, though she decided to remain by the grave of her father. When this Indian woman died, in 1785, it is said, "her burial was directed by the minister of the First Parish of Pembroke."

Next week's cover design will be the seal of the Town of Randolph, another of the co-sponsors of the Massachusetts WPA Music Project.
